EPHRAIM MUSICK, claiming 800 arpens.

No.	Name of original claimant.	Arpens.	Nature and date of claim.	By whom granted.	By whom surveyed, date and situation.
316	Ephraim Musick.	800	Settlement right.

Evidence with reference to minutes and records.

August 31, 1812. Peter Jump and Ephraim Musick, contending claims. Monday, the 21st of September next, assigned as the day of hearing. Service of a copy hereof on the adverse party 10 days previously to the hearing, or publication in the Missouri Gazette for two preceding weeks, will be deemed sufficient notice. See Bates's minutes, page 1.

St. Louis, September 21, 1812. Present: Frederick Bates, commissioner.

This being the day set for the hearing testimony in the contending claims of Peter Jump and Ephraim Musick, the said Peter Jump appeared with his witnesses.

Peter Jump, claiming 80 arpens of land on Feefee creek, in district of St. Louis, adjoining the tract purchased by said Jump from Ephraim Musick and one Campbell, by virtue of having actually inhabited and cultivated the same.

Absalom Link, duly sworn, says that about five or six years claimant went on the adjoining lands, which he purchased of Ephraim Musick, and has constantly, since that time, cultivated the land claimed; raised, planted trees, apple, peach, and cherry, and built houses.

Question by Peter Jump. Do you know of Ephraim Musick, or any other person than claimant, having actually settled this tract?

Answer. I know of no other than yourself.

Question by claimant. Where was E. Musick actually residing when he cultivated the land claimed?

Answer. He lived on lands which he is understood to have purchased of Joseph Williams.

Lewis Williams, being duly sworn, says that the land claimed was cultivated in the year 1801, by E. Musick; that said land came into possession of claimant by virtue of a deed from E. Musick, given in 1807, and that claimant has had undisturbed possession thereof ever since; that he has two buildings on said tract, and said land cultivated every year since 1801 to the present day. Corn, grass, orchards, &c., are now growing; that the houses in which he first lived were on the line; some on outside. I never knew an actual settler on the place except claimant.

Question by William Russell, for Musick, to Absalom Link. 1st. How long since Peter Jump came to Louisiana?

Answer. Five or six years.

Question 2d, by Russell. Who did the first cultivation on tract claimed?

Answer. Does not certainly know; but the land was in E. Musick's possession, and supposes that the first cultivation was either by him or for him.

Question 3d. When did E. Musick first come into possession?

Answer. Before 1803, but how long does not know.

Question 4th. How long since E. Musick left the possession of said tract?

Answer. Five or six years.

Question 5th. Do you or do you not know that E. Musick cultivated said tract before 1803, and till 1806, every year?

Answer. Believes that he did cultivate every year from before 1803, till he left it, probably 1806.

Question 1st—to Lewis Williams.

Answer. 6 years this fall.

Question 2d—same answer.

Question 3d—answer. In 1801.

Question 4th—same answer.

Question 5th. Do you or do you not know that E. Musick cultivated said tract from 1801 till 1806, every year?

Answer. I believe he did, or had it cultivated.

It is the admission of the parties that E. Musick gave other lands in lieu of the lands in question. At the margin is the following: Not granted—Jump's claim not granted. See Bates's minutes, pages 1 and 2.

June 19, 1835. The Board met, pursuant to adjournment. Present: F. R. Conway, J. H. Relfe, commissioners.

Ephraim Musick, by his legal representatives, claiming 800 arpens of land, situate on waters of Feefee's creek. See record-book C, page 319; Bates's minutes, pages 1 and 2; Bates's decisions, page 27. See book No. 7, page —.

August 17, 1835. The Board met, pursuant to adjournment. Present: F. R. Conway, J. H. Relfe, F. H. Martin, commissioners.

Ephraim Musick, claiming 800 arpens of land. See book No. 7, page 193.

The Board are unanimously of opinion that 640 acres of land ought to be granted to the said Ephraim Musick, or to his legal representatives, according to possession. See book No. 7, page 217.

Fred Musick Seeks Reelection

Fred G. Musick, 201 Sarvis Drive, today announced his candidacy for reelection as Knox County Board of Education representative from the ninth district.

Musick

Mr. Musick, a lawyer and partner in the firm of Jenkins & Jenkins, has served on the board six years. He said that during that time: "I have visited the schools in the Ninth District regularly. I have observed and listened. I have faithfully attended the school board meetings. I have taken positive positions on the issues. I have been an independent voice, insisting that the board make policy, and that the staff administer it, in accordance with laws and established policies."

Mr. Musick also noted that while he has "supported completely our teachers and all supportive personnel, as a matter of conscience I did oppose unemployment compensation to teachers during their Christmas and Easter vacations, since, as a matter of fact, they were all under contract, being paid, not unemployed."

Mr. Musick is a Johnson Bible College trustee, on the board of governors of the Knoxville Bar Association, and membership chairman of the Knox County Juvenile Court Advisory Board.

He served as Mooreland Heights Elementary School P-TA president some years ago. His daughter, Kathie, went to school there. She is a now a UT graduate and a Juvenile Court probation counselor. His wife, Jayne, helped establish and worked in the Mooreland Heights school library.

Mr. Musick is a graduate of Milligan College and received his law degree from UT. He is a member of the Christian Church, a Mason, and a World War II veteran.
